Dear Melody, Fenix, and Eugenia,

Apologies for the barrage of public comment documents this afternoon. This is the last one, and it is very interesting. It is a preliminary tally of a ballot taken by Kekaha school children, showing their choices regarding possible clean up options. The ballot was an exercise geared to showing students the importance of civic engagement, by having them participate in public dialogue around a current issue.

The final tally had 69% young respondents supporting the removal of contaminated soil, 34% supporting placing the soil in a sealed container, and 2% supporting covering the contamination with gravel. 49% of the respondents opted to write in their own options. Nearly 80% approved of taking the soil off island.

Among the "write in" suggestions, as you'll see:

"Send it to the moon."
"Put it in the desert."
"Get all of our buckets."
and
"Throw it where there is no life."

This email text can be included in the submission of the ballot and tally, to explain those documents.

Thank you for your consideration, and have a great weekend,
Phoebe Eng
